Berlin, via London, May 12. German troops yesterday stormed several British lines near Hulluch, says the official statement issued today at German headquarters.

BANDITS CAUGHT

Three Mexicans Who Killed Curtis Bayles, Near Mercedes, Apprehended—One Killed in Fight.

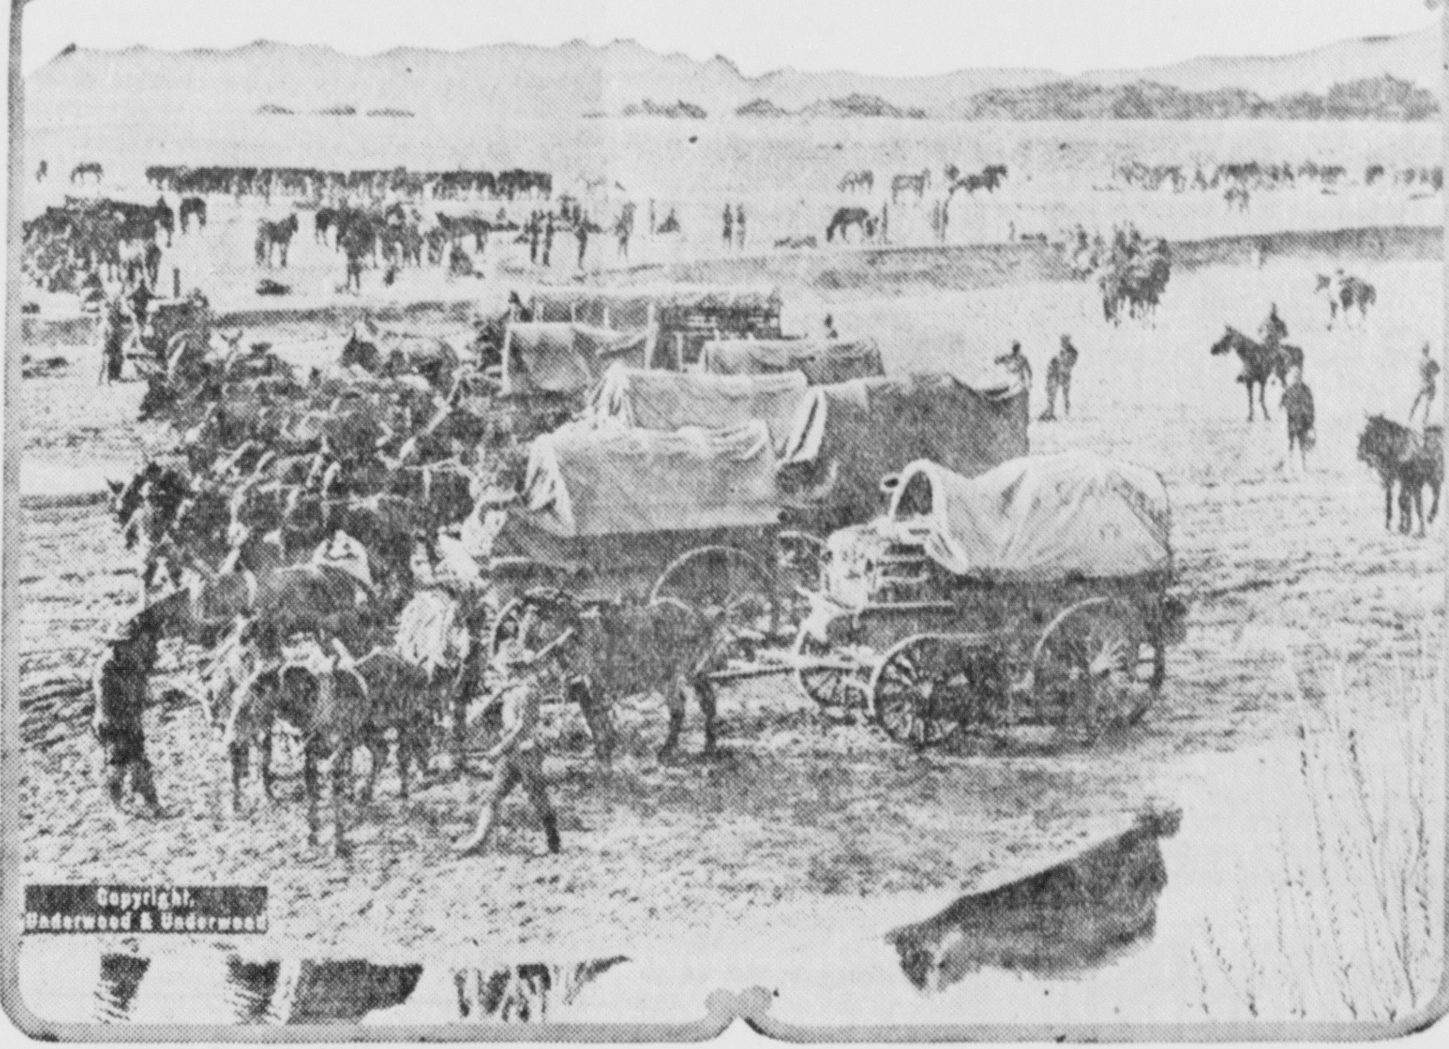

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Brownsville, Texas, May 12.—Three Mexicans, who killed Curtis Bayles, an American, near Mercedes, Texas, last night, were surrounded today.

One was killed and the other two captured, according to a report received today at Fort Brown.

The two captives are held at military headquarters at Progreso.

The three men are supposed to have been attempting to enter Mexico.

AMERICAN WAGON TRAIN FINDS GOOD CAMPING PLACE

Wagon train of the American expedition in Mexico arriving on the outskirts of Las Cruces to camp for the night. They had just completed a 32-mile hike through the mountain passes of Mexico. The arid mesa of Mexico is not broken up with many watering places such as is depicted in the photograph, so much care is exercised in selecting stopping places for the night.

BANDITS RAID POLARIS

Americans Escape to Nogales in Autos

Infantry and Cavalry Rushed to Scene of Latest Outrage.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Tucson, Arizona, May 12.—Mexican bandits are reported to have raided Polaris, a mining camp seven miles below Lochiel, on the border, yesterday, driving out the Americans who escaped to Nogales in automobiles.

Colonel Sage, commandant at Nogales, sent a company of infantry and 20 cavalrymen to guard Lochiel, Washington Camp and other towns on the American side.

A telephone message received here from Washington Camp, near the border, this afternoon, states that American soldiers had crossed the line and visited Polaris Camp, but found the bandits had fled.

IRISH AFFAIRS MUCH BETTER

Abolishing Martial Law and Work of Repairing Damage Task of Near Future.

(Associated Press Cable)

Dublin, Ireland, May 12.—Premier Asquith arrived in Dublin today to consult department chiefs upon the advisability of issuing a proclamation abolishing martial law in Ireland.

The step is considered probable within a short time.

The situation growing out of the recent revolts considered to be well in hand.

Disturbed conditions in parts of provinces may necessitate continued military control in these districts.

Reconstruction of sections of Dublin razed by the revolutionists and compensation for such damage is being considered.

39TH "Y" GATHERING

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Cleveland, May 12.—The thirty-ninth triennial international convention of the Young Men's Christian Association opened here today with 3,000 delegates from all parts of the world in attendance.

Dr. Timothy Stone, of Chicago, was in charge at the opening.

A series of addresses are to be delivered by leaders of the Association work throughout the world.

Inauguration of John R. Mott to the secretaryship of the international committee was the feature of the first day's program.

AIREY PLEADS TO UGLY CHARGE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., May 12.—George Airey, who recently terrorized patrons in a bank by flourishing a revolver, slashed a policeman who arrested him and was shot in an attempt to escape, today pleaded not guilty to a charge of cutting with intent to kill as he lay on a hospital cot in a ward of the city prison.

Court was convened in the prison cell because Airey is still too weak from his wound to leave his cot.

French Troops Repulse German Attack at Dead Man's Hill—Two Night Attacks.

(Associated Press Cable)

Hard fighting has been resumed in the vicinity of Dead Man's Hill on the Verdun front, the Germans making another attempt to dislodge the French from positions on the slope of the hill, the capture of which on May 10 was reported by the Paris War Office.

Two attacks in quick succession were delivered last night, but both were repulsed by the French fire, the War Office announced today.

HALF MILLION LOSS BY FIRE AT SANDUSKY

Flames Get Beyond Control and Business Section Is Wiped Out—Help Entrained at Toledo and Elyria.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Sandusky, May 12.—Subsiding of a high wind probably was all that saved the business district of this city from destruction by fire this morning.

The flames originated in the Carroll livery barn and spread rapidly to the Nobles' big clothing house.

The Healy Company dry goods store, Dilgart & Bittner furniture store, J. H. Homan's furniture store, Philip Wassner's wholesale liquor store and five smaller establishments have been gutted at 10 o'clock, and the fire was still beyond control of the local department.

Help is entrained from Toledo and Elyria.

The loss thus far is roughly estimated at $400,000.

The fire is in the blocks bounded by Columbus avenue, Market, Washington and Hancock streets.

Strong winds swept the flames dangerously near the adjoining business section.

It was nearly noon when the fire was finally gotten under control.

GETTING BUSY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, May 12.—The State Department received word late today that General Trevino had ordered 1,500 Carranza cavalry and infantry toward the border, to pursue the bandits responsible for the recent raid at Glen Springs and Poquillas, Texas.

MORE TRACTION DOPE ANNOUNCED

That capitalists, seeking an investment which might prove highly profitable are planning an extension of the Xenia traction line, probably to this city, is the announcement emanating from Xenia, and in connection with the matter the Xenia Gazette says:

"Talks again rife of an impending movement of prominent southern Ohio capitalists toward the construction of the long rumored traction line between Xenia and Wilmington. Several months ago the rumor had it that the new connecting line was a sure thing but discussion became suddenly quiet and it was feared that the prospect for this line had gone the way of many bright promises and would never materialize. In the last two weeks, however, certain information of movements made by the promoters of this line are coming to light in Greene county. Several farmers have admitted that they have been approached by representatives of the men who claimed that they had come to talk real business about the titles to property on the proposed right of way. It was stated emphatically that the traction line was an assured institution for the two counties and that the work was being held up only by the desire to learn if the line could not be constructed so as to take in a part of the other southern towns of Greene County.

It is understood that the same bunch of capitalists are looking with favor upon a connecting link between Washington C. H. and Xenia. This was also rumored before and many other times but the talk is again cropping out and as usual it has the rumored official backing. It has been said that both lines could be put upon a paying basis in quick order as "juice" for the operation of the cars can be obtained without the heavy cost of building modern power houses with the hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of fine equipment.

It has been understood for some time that these men have had their eyes on Greene county as a good investment field and they are working upon a plan to build a traction line that will reach Jamestown, Cedarville, Port William, Jasper, Burlington and several other small towns of the county that now have to depend upon a daily train, a jitney or the old faithful beast of burden. It is said that this plan can be arranged if no hitch arises in the proceedings."

BADLY HURT BY KICK

(By American Press)

Greenville, Pa., May 12.—William Bryer, a young farmer of Lineville, has lost all of his five senses as the result of being kicked by a young horse he was clipping. The animal, without shoes, kicked him in the head, and the impression of the hoof was left on his head and face. Since the accident he can neither see, feel, hear, smell, nor speak, and his condition is serious.

WEAK AND TIRED WOMAN

Tells How Vinol Made Her Strong.

Washington Court House women who are weak, run-down and suffer from the consequent effects of such a condition, will be interested in Mrs. Odell's letter. She says:

"I am a farmer's wife and was all run-down, weak, tired, and suffered from indigestion, and sometimes it seemed as though I could not keep around and do my housework. I had taken many medicines without benefit. One day I saw Vinol advertised, and made up my mind to try it. I have taken four bottles and have gained seven pounds in weight, am much stronger, and feel many years younger than before." Sarah Odell, Lockport, N. Y.

The reason Vinol builds up weak, run-down women so quickly is because it contains a delicious combination of the three most successful tonics, peptonate of iron to enrich and revitalize the blood, the strength-creating, body-building elements of fresh cod's livers without oil, and beef peptone.

We want to say to every weak, run-down, overworked woman in Washington Court House that we will return your money if Vinol fails to help you as it did Mrs. Odell. Blackmer & Tanquary. Advt.

ARE INTERESTED IN STATE S. S. CONVENTION

Washington C. H. will have special reason to be interested in the state Sunday School convention at Findlay, June 19-22, according to information brought to this city from state headquarters, at Columbus. The reason is that one of the big features of that convention will be a pageant devised and presented by a former Washington C. H. woman, Mrs. Mabel P. Stecker, wife of Rev. Daniel Stecker, who is remembered in Washington C. H. as a high school teacher and an assistant principal.

Her contribution to the program is called the Pageant of Darkness and Light and was first exemplified in Findlay during the Easter holidays.

SHOPS DEMAND NEW EFFICIENCY

No Room for Nervous, Worn Out Men and Women.

Efficiency is the watch word of modern industries. Practically all of the larger enterprises are demanding that applicants pass a physical examination before they are admitted to employment. They are adopting the theory that without health a man is unable to give his employer the best that is in him. There is no place in the modern business world for the nervous, fagged out, listless man or woman.

This is an age of speed; we haven't time to take care of ourselves. These run-down men and women are not exactly sick, but just tired out, languid and overworked. Their business, their home, and their life suffer.

They need something to build them up, something to throw off these symptoms of a weakened debilitated condition produced by mental or physical overwork or by the abuse of a vital organ—more often the stomach than any other.

Chemists and scientists have gone to endless pains to discover something that would combat this serious condition. It was left to Joseph Von Trimbach, the noted chemist and giver of health aids, to solve this perplexing problem, and he did. He has given the American public a vegetable preparation composed of herbs, roots, flowers and barks, which he has called Tanlac.

Since its introduction, a trifle over a year ago, men and women, from the highest to the lowest walks of life, by the thousands everywhere, are testifying to the relief Tanlac has brought them.

Tanlac, the tonic, appetizer and invigorant, that builds new tissues, vitalizes the blood, and acts so favorably on ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys, and catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes, has been met with favor wherever it has been introduced.

Tanlac is being especially introduced in Washington C. H. at Blackmer & Tanquary's where the Tanlac Man daily explains the merits of the Master Medicine.

Tanlac may be obtained in the following nearby towns. Sabina, J. J. Spurgeon; Wilmington, Harry Christopher; Jeffersonville, J. B. Davis; Jamestown, W. F. Harper; Greenfield, Harry Christopher; Bainbridge, A. W. Fetter; Anderson, C. A. Graves; Chillicothe, Mushler Pharmacy; Leesburg, Chas. W. Feller; New Vienna, W. C. Higley; Austin, William M. Near; Bowersville, C. E. Gardner; Bloomingburg, J. Y. Stitt; Clarksburg, Clarksburg Drug Store. Advt.

A NOTEWORTHY REGULAR SESSION OF THE W. R. C.

At the close of the regular session of the W. R. C. Thursday, a very beautiful and appropriate program on Peace and Arbitration was given, under the direction of Patriotic Instructor, Mrs. F. G. Carpenter.

The members of John M. Bell post were honored guests on this occasion; and Mrs. Carpenter announced that while the program did not all touch on peace and arbitration, it was also intended to pay honor to the soldiers.

A number of children took part in the program, thus teaching them patriotism.

Pleasing recitations were given by Helen Lemmons, Christine Myers, Chloe Anderson and Macomb Evans. Dorothy Sparks and Ralph Lloyd gave beautiful tributes to our flag, the latter being composed by Mrs. Carpenter. Mrs. Tobin read an original and well written poem on "A Question of Preparedness." Mrs. Kidd delighted all with an instrumental melody of war-time selections and pleasing vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Nye Gregg and Miss Louise Larrimer. A number of the veterans, Messrs. Rowe, Rothrock and Kinney made happy little speeches expressing their appreciation of the event.

The Alarming Rumors Again

It is regrettable, but nevertheless a very evident fact, that the selfish advocates of intervention in Mexico, increase their activities to manufacture public opinion in an equal, or perhaps, greater ratio as the task of the United States government grows more burdensome.

The Washington government has steadfastly refused to intervene in Mexico to aid those who would conquer that stricken people for the purpose of increasing our territorial possessions.

President Wilson and his official family have opposed and doubtless will always oppose waging a war of conquest against Mexico and in that determination the people of the United States support them.

Events during the past week have been fast forcing the conclusion that this nation will be compelled to take hold of conditions in the land across the Rio Grande and bring order out of chaos and if that necessity does arise we may all rest assured that this nation will discharge its full duty but never with any intentions of conquest or intervention in the sense that selfish advocates of such a course insist upon.

The favorite method of campaigning—the circulation of alarming rumors of foreign plots and the like—has already begun.

It is well to accept all such at their true value rather than the alarming face value, which will necessitate a liberal discount in nearly every instance, before the bare kernel of truth around which the romance is woven, stands revealed.

The Roosevelt Movement

As the time for the republican national convention approaches the movement in favor of the nomination of ex-President Roosevelt increases in its insistency to public recognition, if not in real strength.

The man from Oyster Bay is very much in the public eye at this time and his followers are exhibiting each day more enthusiasm in his behalf and more confidence in their ability to secure the coveted nomination than are those of any other single candidate.

It is impossible of course, in advance of the opening of and, perhaps, a test vote on some preliminary question in, the convention, whether the followers of the spectacular leader of the political revolt of 1912, have as great or greater strength among the delegates, than all of the other candidates combined.

Certain it is, however, that there is a well directed organization, intelligently managed and strongly supported Roosevelt propaganda now at work with a fixed determination to nominate Colonel Roosevelt at Chicago.

It is certain also that all other candidates would join hands to prevent the nomination of Roosevelt at Chicago and if he and his friends are successful it will be against a combined opposition and never as a compromise selection.

While the loud acclaim of public opinion has some effect upon the delegates yet, after all is said and done, it is the delegate vote that counts and right at this time, the majority of the selected delegates are not pro-Roosevelt.

The time for campaigning to change the previously formed opinions of the delegates is growing short and we may expect now that the Roosevelt move is in full swing, to see it make up in intensity what it may lack in length.

The Vacation Time

It is now approaching that time of year when an army of good, intelligent and ambitious boys, just rounding into manhood, young men if you please, will be at the command of the professional and business men of the country at least during the summer vacation.

Back from the college or just out of the local schools these coming men, anxious to get their hands and heads educated in the practical work of this busy old world, will be available for use.

There are thousands of boys now days who realize that it is scarcely fair for father to bear all the heavy expense of college during the winter season and then to pay the expenses of the good times in vacation too.

That's the proper spirit. It indicates the possession of a proper pride and a self-respect, an ambition to be self-sustaining that will, if cultivated pay big dividends in after years.

Every business man should encourage the boys by exhibiting confidence in their ability and desire to do. It is far better for the boys to allow them to extend their own hands and help themselves as every normal boy wants to do, than it is to extend to them a handfull of money to encourage idleness and wastefulness.

Your ambitious intelligent American boy needs very little help. He'll help himself if only given the opportunity.

It costs nothing to recognize worth and ability in the coming men and open up a place for them to push through into the big world of action and reality.

Many men who never have given the subject a great deal of thought will be amazed too at the capabilities of these same youngsters.

Poetry For Today

FRAGMENT.

Faint white pillars that seem to fade
As you look from here are the first one sees
Of his house where it hides and dies
In a shade
Of beeches and oaks and hickory trees.
Now may a man, given woods like these,
And a house like that, and the Briony gold.
Would have said, "There are still some Gods to please,
And houses are built without hands,
we're told."

There are the pillars, and all gone
gray,
Briony's hair went white. You may see
Where the garden was if you come this way.
That sundial scared him, he said to me:
"Sooner or later they strike," she he,
And he never got that from the books he read.
Others are flourishing, worse than he,
But he know too much for the life he led.

And who knows all knows everything
That a patient ghost at last retrieves
There's more to be known of his harvesting
When Time, the thresher, unbinds
the sheaves;
And there's more to be heard than a wind that grieves,
For Briony now in this ageless oak,
Driving the first of its withered leaves
Over the stones where the fountain broke.

AIR MEN TOSSED HOURS ON SEA

Two Battle More Than a Day For Lives In Adriatic.

DISTRESS SIGNALS NOT SEEN

Hydroplane Went Wrong and Dropped to Water With W. E. Doherty, an American, and a Companion While They Were Searching For Submarines of Italy's Foe.

Milan, Italy.—William Ellwood Doherty, a young American whose career as an air man has abounded in perilous adventure, has just added to his list a fight for life lasting more than twenty-nine hours in the wintry waters of the Adriatic. Once before he had been stranded in the same sea in midsummer and collapsed from thirst and heat. This time he had the other extreme of weather, battling with a northern gale, and was rescued when on the verge of exhaustion.

Austrian submarines were patrolling the Adriatic while the Italians were sending troop ships across to Albania. Doherty set out in a Curtiss hydroplane to patrol the passage and give warning of danger. He left Taranto at 2 o'clock in the afternoon with an Italian helper. As daylight was falling the motor broke down, and the hydroplane dropped to the water.

Italian vessels were in sight, but did not see Doherty's signals for help. With darkness the wind rose and waves broke over the tiny craft. Doherty tore away the drip pan of the machine. The two cold, hungry, watersoaked men used it to bail with. By working one at a time without stopping they were able to keep afloat, although every high wave gave them a fresh drenching.

They had lost their scant provisions in the descent to the water, and in the tossing of the hydroplane their cigarettes and matches went overboard.

The weather became intensely cold. In the respite from bailing the air man who was free kept lookout for a ship. One came in sight several hours after dark, but passed on, not seeing the smoke bombs with which the aviators tried to hail it. Throughout the night and all the next morning the men relieved each other with the drip pan bailing.

Finally, too tired to work longer and despairing of rescue, Doherty curled up in the end of the craft. Sleep overcame him, but he had nightmare and was roused when a lurch of the plane nearly spilled him into the sea. Again he took his turn at bailing.

The specter of death was before the eyes of both men when night fell once more. Then a torpedo boat headed toward them appeared on the horizon. They exploded more smoke bombs and wildly waved their signal flags. This time they were seen. The torpedo boat approached, lowered a small boat and rescued men and wreck twenty miles from shore.

Italian craft had been looking for Doherty and his companion ever since the machine failed them. Allowance had not been made for the wind, which blew the unfortunates seaward, and the search was confined to an area comparatively near shore until the torpedo boat struck out into the open.

Naval commanders who had engaged in the early search reported the first night that Doherty and his companion probably were lost. Their return to shore was hailed as little short of miraculous.

Doherty recovered within a day from the effects of his exposure. Substitutes had taken over his patrol duty in the Adriatic, however, and he decided to shift his field of activity. He has gone to Paris and London in search of further adventure.

ELECTROCUTED IN BATHTUB.

Portable Electric Light Bulb Fell and Caused Death.

Toledo, O.—When a portable electric light fell into the bathtub in which she was sitting, Mrs. Josephine Bellows was electrocuted.

Mrs. Bellows, who was twenty-two years old, was alone, her husband having gone to Buffalo. She turned on the water, got into the tub and was reading a magazine while the tub filled. A small portable electric light was attached to a stand beside the tub, and this became detached and fell. The bulb was shattered, and in trying to catch the cord it is supposed Mrs. Bellows' hand came in contact with the exposed wires.

KISS FOR AUTO FAIR TRADE.

That Was Verdict of Iowa Jury Upholding Woman.

Davenport, Ia.—That the kiss which Mrs. Bertha Spangler claims she gave Thomas Brown for an automobile was a fair trade was the verdict of a Scott county jury.

Brown brought the suit in an attempt to show that he was the owner of the car and had merely let Mrs. Spangler, his housekeeper, use the machine. The woman testified that Brown had given her the car, the compensation being a kiss. The jury was out for four hours before a verdict was finally agreed upon which gave the machine to the woman.

LEWIS STREET PAVING IS LAUNCHED BY CITY SOLONS

Connecting Link of Two Squares With Width of 26 Feet Planned. English Addition Citizens Up in Arms—Sidewalk on North Side of Millikan Avenue Authorized.

Nearly all of the Thursday night session of council was devoted to looking after improvements in the outlying districts of the city, and quite a number of citizens from the English Addition were present to protest against removal of certain catch-basins in that part of the city. All councilmen were present except Howell.

Geo. Inskeep requested council to use the material from the Paint street excavating to crown the new street from North street to Millwood and to fill in and widen Millikan avenue. He stated that he understood agreement had been reached whereby property owners on both sides of Millikan avenue would pay for a sidewalk on the east side.

Gilbert Adams asked that the city purchase a new water tank for the corner of Paint and North streets. This was referred to the Service Committee.

John Wigginton asked for two water plugs on Rose avenue, the new mains to be laid up Pearl street. The problem was referred to the Service Committee.

Regular business was then taken up, and the report of the Finance Committee awarding $9,000 in street and sewer bonds to the Commercial Bank was adopted.

A resolution to construct a cement sidewalk on the north side of Millikan avenue was passed.

A protest from a number of property owners on Rawlings street, who objected to paying 98 per cent of the cost of paving that street, was read.

The ordinance to increase the pay of the motor-truck driver of the Fire Department was tabled until the next budget is made up, it being explained that no funds were available at present.

After considerable argument and the statement that it would require 1200 to 1500 yards of earth to make the fill on Millikan avenue, action was taken to make the fill before the new street from Millikan avenue to Dayton avenue is constructed. The Service-Safety Director was authorized to employ teams for a day or two to aid in hauling the material from Paint street until the steam shovel is nearer the fill. Sheets protested to this, stating that the request of Mr. Heffner, the contractor, appeared unfair.

It was announced that bids for flushing the streets could now be advertised for at any time. It will be some little time before a contract can be awarded.

Upon motion by Sheets the Solicitor was instructed to prepare a resolution and the Engineer prepare plans and specifications for the paving of Lewis street from Paint to Gregg. The paving is to be 26 feet in width, with curb set in, and one-third of the cost is to be borne by the city, owing to the importance of the connection on that street the commissioners having agreed to improve the Lewis pike into Gregg street.

The Engineer was directed to furnish grade for five foot sidewalks on South Main street, the action being taken at request of citizens.

Sheets asked for a statement from Engineer Jacobs, as to how he was progressing with the large amount of work in his department.

Mr. Jacobs replied that he really had more work than he could look after properly, and would appreciate some assistance. Action was taken to give him necessary assistance, the Service-Safety Director to employ the help.

The question of removing the catch basins recently ordered out by council, in the English Addition, was taken up, nearly every citizen present from that addition asking that the catch basins be allowed to remain. Perry insisted that they were preventing the drain from working properly. The argument between Perry and other citizens grew somewhat warm. Several of the men claimed that if the basins are removed their properties will be damaged by water during wet periods.

Sheets stated that the former action had been taken without investigation from the Service Committee, and moved that it be rescinded until the committee investigated thoroughly.

Attorney Post notified council that the catch basins were on a county ditch, and must be removed, even if it required a court action to do it. Sheets announced that the reason he made the motion to rescind until an investigation is made was because he understood someone had, contrary to law, tapped the sewer or drain. The former action was rescinded.

Adjournment until Monday, May 22, was taken.

M'QUAY ENTERS RACE FOR COUNTY OFFICE

J. H. McQuay, former Good Hope merchant, now doing a general merchandise business in New Holland and treasurer of Perry township, Pickaway county, has hurled his toga into the ring for the Democratic nomination for treasurer of Pickaway county.

"Joe" has spent much of his life in and near New Holland, and his friends believe he has an excellent chance of not only winning the nomination, but defeating his opponent at the general election.

RESORT TO SKIN GRAFTING TO SAVE LIFE OF CHILD

Prof. B. F. Toops Suffers Loss of Many Square Inches of Skin, Undergoing Dire Torture That His Little Daughter Might Recover From Horrible Burns.

That his little daughter Margaret, might recover from fearful burns received nearly three months ago when part of her clothing was burned off after being ignited by flames from a stove, Prof. B. F. Toops, principal of Cherry Hill school, has suffered the removal of several square inches of cuticle which has been successfully grafted to the abdomen and lower limbs of the little girl, and she is now on the way to ultimate recovery, although it will probably be months before the little tot is fully recovered.

The burns, owing to their severity, refused to respond to medical treatment, and when it became evident that the child's life depended upon the formation of new cuticle by grafting, the father unhesitatingly announced his readiness to undergo the excruciating pain and loss of many square inches of his own cuticle.

The child was removed to the Grant Hospital, Columbus, and two weeks ago the first skin grafting took place, and last Monday the second grafting occurred, and in both instances proved highly successful. A third grafting will be made about June 15th.

In the transfer of the skin from the father to the child, the child was placed under an anaesthetic while the father was not.

Section after section of skin, some pieces larger and some smaller than a five cent piece, were clipped from the parent, who endured the pain with remarkable fortitude, and grafted to the child.

In all 18 or 20 graftings were thus made, and Prof. Toops plainly shows the effects of the trying ordeal, although he is going bravely about his work at Cherry Hill, suffering intensely but happy in the knowledge that his great pain is alleviating the suffering of his little daughter and making her recovery possible.

ANOTHER COMMITTEE SHOWING ACTIVITY

All committees of the Y. M. C. A. are showing unusual activity, and are conducting their affairs in a very business like manner.

The Educational committee, with C. A. Reid chairman, has outlined the work in the department. No summer school will be conducted, but the plans call for a course in bookkeeping, stenography and salesmanship, to be opened next fall under competent instructors.

Other work will be taken up by the committee and further evidence that the committee is alive are expected in the near future.

FREIGHT WRECK DELAYS TRAFFIC

A half dozen cars of an extra south bound freight train on the D. T. & I. were stacked up in bad shape a half mile north of Greenfield, about 7:20 Thursday night, with the result that the line was not opened to traffic until noon Friday, when the wreck crew from Springfield completed the task of clearing away the obstruction and making repairs.

The wreck occurred a few minutes before the south bound evening passenger train reached the scene and it was necessary for the train to come back to this city, reaching here about ten o'clock Thursday night.

The Friday morning northbound passenger train was annulled, and the south bound train was unable to get through until noon Friday.

The six cars derailed were badly smashed, and quite a little track damaged.

WOUNDED MAN IS TAKEN TO HOME

Harry Sammons has been removed from the Hodson Hospital to his home, the transfer being made Friday afternoon.

The man's condition is still serious, and Friday he was not as well as a few days ago. He is not yet out of danger.

PREPARATIONS FOR ELKS' TRIP

Preparations for the big Elks' outing—ninety mile auto trip to Bucyrus and return—on next Tuesday are going forward under the high gear of enthusiasm which is an insurance of one of the grandest, great big trips ever pulled off by this or any other organization.

The number of Elks who have already weighed in for the start bright and early at 7 o'clock next Tuesday morning guarantees already a turnout, which, when it rolls into Bucyrus with horns honking, pennants flying amid the joyful shouts of the auto occupants, will surprise the "natives" and give them some idea of the size and spirit of No. 129, Washington C. H., Ohio.

All Bucyrus will welcome the "bunch" from Washington. The Elks up there are going to put work aside and devote the day from noon on until near sunset, when the journey home will be begun, to showing their visitors a good time.

The trip alone "through the heart of Ohio" has proven a magnet of sufficient drawing power to bring to every local Elk realization of the opportunity and a determination to take advantage of it.

Members of the committee in charge of the outing report that everything is in "ship shape" and everyone is on the tip toe of pleasant expectancy, eagerly waiting for 7 o'clock next Tuesday to come.

CRAIG FACTORY TO OPEN SOON

Mr. C. L. Craig is completing the work of installing machinery and all necessary equipment to open his factory in the western part of the city within the next two weeks.

The factory will be devoted exclusively to the manufacture of Craig's patent washer nut lock, barn and garage door latch, and other useful articles patented by Mr. Craig.

The new washer nut lock is an innovation and gives promise of large sales throughout the country. With the washer in place, it is impossible for the nut to become loose.

The door-latch also is a very ingenious article and one which is expected to be in general use in the near future.

DEATH REMOVES WELL KNOWN CINCINNATIAN

LEWIS TO LEAVE FIRE DEPARTMENT

"Red" Lewis, who has charge of the motor truck of the fire department and is a skilled mechanic, has tendered his resignation to Mayor Oster, and within the next two or three weeks expects to accept one of several jobs which pay considerably more than the work at the fire department.

Mr. Lewis tendered his resignation a short time ago when application to increase the salary of the motor truck driver was not given favorable consideration by council.

ATTORNEY BEYERLY HERE ON BUSINESS

Attorney W. J. Beyerly, of Chillicothe, was in this city Thursday, representing the Greenfield Board of Education.

WANTED GREEN IN SHIRT.

Wrecked Store Because Clerk Showed One With Orange Stripes.

Pittsburgh.—"Lemme see something nifty in shirts—something with a classy green stripe," said Dan McKee of Soho street, as he went into the men's furnishing store of Emil de Santis, in Webster avenue. The lone clerk evidently did not notice all the specifications of McKee's order and listlessly drew out at random the first box of shirts his hand touched. Picking the top shirt out, he laid it before McKee.

"There's something nice," he began. "Oh, is it?" yelled McKee.

Things happened in rapid succession for a few minutes, during which the clerk ran for a policeman. A showcase was smashed and haberdashery strewn about the floor.

"McKee," asked Magistrate Sweeney at the hearing next morning, "what on earth made you try to wreck that store?"

"I asked for a green striped shirt, judge."

"Well?"

"And that fellow handed me a bright orange one."

"I see," said Sweeney. "But I'll have to make it thirty days."

SAVES RARE OLD VIOLIN.

Girl Digs Relic From a Trunk as the House Burns.

Tacoma, Wash.—A rare old violin valued at $700 and owned by Miss Marlain Beecher of Puyallup was all that was saved when the little house adjoining the home of John S. Ellegood on South hill burned to the ground.

As Miss Beecher opened the door to enter her room she was met by a cloud of smoke. Her first thought was of the old violin, stored in a small iron trunk, which had been given to her by her father and which was prized as a heirloom of the family.

Rushing into the smoke, she grabbed the trunk, but found it was too heavy to drag out. She lifted the lid, however, took out the violin and carried it to safety.

NEW BUILDING IS PLANNED ON MARKET STREET

Announcement was made Friday by Mr. Wm. Backenstoe that in the near future, unless his present plans are changed, he will begin the erection of a modern moving picture theater on his lot immediately east of the city lot on Market street, and before summer is far advanced he expects to throw open to the public a model theater with a seating capacity of 600 persons, and give the highest grade pictures obtainable.

In addition to the theater building, which Mr. Backenstoe announces will be constructed of brick, fronting on Market street, Mr. Backenstoe expects to erect a modern double residence property immediately north of the present Backenstoe home, and remodel the corner or home property.

The improvement is one of a number in the neighborhood of the Market-Fayette street intersection during the past few years, and still others are expected to follow.

INTERESTING MEETING OF PARENTS-TEACHERS

The Parent-Teachers' club of the Central school district met in the assembly room of the high school, Wednesday evening, at 7:30.

Messrs. Hicks, West, Davenport and Saxton, formed a quartette and favored the audience with several selections at the beginning and close of the session, adding much to the evening's entertainment.

First, a paper by Mrs. Alec Ballard entitled "Story Telling to Children Between the Ages of 2 and 5," in which was stated that simplicity is the keynote to story telling.

The value and importance of story telling was ably set forth. She told the story "When Mother Was a Little Girl," to the audience, as she would tell it to little children.

Mrs. Clarence Craig next presented a paper on "Toys and Games." The initiative stage lasts until the close of the third year when individualizing begins. Play is the child's world and spontaneous play is the best way of finding out the child's characteristics. Play is essential for physical, intellectual and moral development.

Mrs. Soddors' paper, "Do You Care, and How Much," gave much food for thought and meditation. How to care for the boys and girls who have little or no advantages, and who drop out of school because of insufficient clothing or to become wage earners in order to keep body and soul together, is a serious problem today. An interest in, and spirit of helpfulness to such as these, was encouraged throughout the paper.

Interesting discussions by Supt. McClain, M. E. Hitchcock and Dr. Wright followed.

Mrs. Taggart of Jeffersonville and Mrs. Custis of Xenia favored the audience with fitting remarks along the line of child welfare.

Mrs. Anderson DeWitt, daughters, Misses Bell and Meda, are entertaining Mrs. U. S. Botsford of Siloam Springs, Ark., a niece of Mrs. DeWitt's. Mrs. Botsford is enroute from visit with her daughters in Toronto, Canada and Boston, Mass.

In Social Circles

Mrs. Walter McLean and Mrs. John Markley delightfully entertained the Elmwood Ladies' Aid Society at the McLean home Thursday afternoon.

A guessing contest provided amusement and tempting refreshments were served. The attendance was very large.

The "500" club was indebted to Mrs. P. E. Wolford for most hospitable entertainment. After a merry game a delicious collation was served.

Spring blossoms formed artistic decorations in the rooms.

Mrs. Bert Harper, of La Fontaine, Ind., and Mrs. W. H. White of Logan were out of town guests.

MARKED DAYS IN W. C. T. U. WORK

Wednesday and Thursday were marked days in interest of Temperance and Sunday School work in Fayette County, the State Supt., Mrs. Fanny Custis of Xenia and County President, Mrs. Alice Taggart, of Jeffersonville, presenting to a large number the importance of the branch of temperance efforts.

On Wednesday morning the two officers visited the Cisco Schools and talked to the pupils, illustrating their addresses with charts. A hundred posters and 200 pages of literature were distributed.

Mrs. Allen Eyeman entertained the speakers at dinner and afterwards they were taken to the Fairview Church with the purpose of organizing a Fairview W. C. T. U. The time however did not seem ripe for a new Union and, altho an interesting meeting was held, no organization was effected.

Mrs. Frank E. Haines extended the hospitality of her home on the Creek Road to Mrs. Custis and Mrs. Taggart while they remained in that neighborhood for an all day institute meeting Thursday at Sugar Grove church.

The Staunton Union joined with the Sugar Grove and the day was one of memorable profit and pleasure.

After opening devotionals Mrs. Taggart conducted a round table, during which there was general discussion along lines of active work.

It was decided to observe Flower Mission Day on June 9th, at both the Children's Home and County Infirmary.

Mrs. Custis made a fine talk on the conduct of mothers' meetings and the noontide was voiced by Mrs. C. L. Pfaltzgraf.

The basket dinner served in the newly finished basement of Sugar Grove church was a sumptuous feast and, as Mrs. Custis said, of "temperance" in that kind of a spread.

The women of these unions had prepared every delicacy and even employed W. C. T. U. decorations, one large cake bearing these letters in bright colors. The convenience of the new basement was thoroughly appreciated.

The feature of the afternoon was the taking into full membership of three women, Mesdames Clara Reed, Betty Proffitt, Mattie McCoy, with the beautiful white ribbon ritual conducted by Mrs. Taggart and Mrs. Custis.

Miss Edith Moore gave a reading, "Judge Morris' Decision," admirably, and a pretty piano duet was played by Mesdames Ralph Allen and Chas. Ford.

The remainder of the afternoon was turned over to Mrs. Custis in the interest of Sunday school temperance work.

TAGGART WINNER IN INSURANCE BUSINESS

Mr. Joseph I. Taggart has just received formal notification from the manager of the Cincinnati Agency that he has qualified as a member of the "1916 $100,000 Field Club" of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

This means that Mr. Taggart has written and paid for $100,000 of life insurance for the year ending May 1, 1916.

Congratulations of Mr. George T. Dexter, second vice-president of the company, are extended to Mr. Taggart on the excellent showing made. Last year only 89 field agents in the United States succeeded in reaching the high mark.

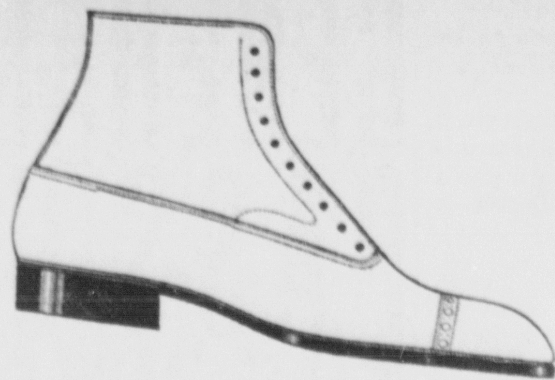

The business written by Mr. Taggart entitles him to a free trip to New York and Atlantic City this summer.

MOTHERS' DAY AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Mothers' Day will be observed at the Presbyterian church with appropriate ceremonies. The Sunday School program is in charge of the Men's Class. At 10:30 a. m. the pastor will preach a Mothers' Day sermon on "Memories of Mother."

It is suggested that each attendant wear a carnation in the mother's honor. Evening sermon commemorating the three hundredth anniversary of Shakespeare. Sermon theme: "The Religious Contributions of Shakespeare."

PRESBYS MAINTAIN GOOSE EGG CHAIN

Snappy and consistent ball playing secured for the Presbyterians their second victory within the week Thursday, the Y. M. C. A.'s getting not so much as a single hit and absolutely no runs. The game went four innings, with the final score 2 to 0.

If the Presbyterians continue in the manner in which they have started, there will be no living with them in a few more weeks. This team, which captured last year's flag after a season without a single defeat, has not been scored on or allowed a hit in its two games to date this season.

This evening, the Methodists and Christians mix it. The Presbys and Methodists clash Monday.

Thursday's game by innings follows:

BRITAIN TO MODIFY ITS BLOCKADES

To Permit Shipments of Food For Poland.

GERMAN SHIPS TO CARRY IT

Rockefeller Foundation Secures Permission of British Government to Forward Foodstuffs to Stricken Poland, Same to Be Distributed by Neutrals—Germany Agrees to Pay For the Supplies.

New York, May 12.—Through the efforts of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and the Rockefeller foundation, and for the sake of starving Poland, the British government has so far modified its food blockade as to permit German ships, flying a neutral flag, to carry foodstuffs to 3,000,000 starving Poles until Oct. 1.

This is the essence of a cablegram received here from London.

Germany upon her part has already agreed to contribute $3,750,000 for the purchase of this food and she has engaged to feed the 12,000,000 more persons of Poland and Russia now governed by her military staff. In addition she gives the ships that will carry ry the food from New York and other ports to Danzig, on the Baltic.

The one condition accepted on the part of the allied and the central powers is that the entire transaction from the purchasing to final distribution shall be solely under the control of a new Polish section, to be organized by H. C. Hoover of the commission for the relief in Belgium and the foundation representatives. Warwick Greene of the foundation and two assistants will have charge, and men are already on their way to make ready for the work. Because of the urgency of the case an agreement is about consummated with Sweden whereby that government will land food until the American cargoes begin to arrive. The work may start at once.

No one could estimate the total cost of this undertaking to the foundation nor the full amount of food that may be needed. The sum contributed by Germany will purchase, it is figured, 20,000 tons of foodstuffs for people who have suffered a famine for nearly a year, but some figures have said that all the starving need something like 40,000 tons a month. With what they already have it is thought that they can be fed for the time prescribed.

Men who were concerned in bringing about the situation declared that it was the most significant sign of the warring powers that has been shown since the war began. For the first time they have come in accord on the subject of starving people. England or, her part has lowered what she considered to be her strongest weapon against the central powers; Germany has agreed so to modify her rule of occupied countries sufficient to permit independent action by neutrals; not only that, but she has supplied the funds to do this.

TO DESIGNATE THE BISHOPS

Committee on Episcopacy to Report to Conference.

Saratoga, N. Y., May 12.—A keen fight will probably be precipitated in the Methodist general conference tomorrow by the report of the committee on episcopacy, which was directed to report the number of bishops to be elected, with a view to beginning balloting immediately. Rumors that eight members of the episcopacy are to be recommended have already brought a protest from delegates who wish to reduce the expense of episcopal supervision, which for the last year was over $700,000.

The committee on episcopacy adopted a report recommending a readjustment of the mission fields so that northern Africa will be transferred to the jurisdiction of the European bishops. This is believed to indicate that an additional bishop for Europe, with headquarters at Rome, will be appointed.

The conference adopted a resolution protesting against a bill now before congress designed to give the postmaster general power to bar from the mails publications containing matter believed to be scurrilous. The delegates referred propositions endorsing anti-lynching movement and the uniform national divorce law.

SOMETHING NEW

(By American Press)

London, May 12.—The infantry actions in the region of Verdun have again given way to artillery bombardments, the most violent of which was directed against the French positions in the Caillotte wood, and their second lines on the right bank of the Meuse. Bombardments also have taken place along the front held by the Belgians, and mining operations and artillery duels have predominated on the British front.

A severe artillery duel is in progress around the Hohenzollern redoubt between the British and Germans.

Constantinople reports that in the Caucasus region around Mount Kope the Turks, in an attack, drove out the Russians from positions about nine and one-half miles in extent and forced them to retreat eastward, and likewise to the southeast of Mamlatun put the Russians to flight.

"DEAR JOHN"

(By American Press)

Washington, May 12.—President Wilson will make a vigorous protest to Great Britain against her policy of holding up shipments of Red Cross supplies for the central powers. The president will charge directly that the present British policy is in direct contravention of the Geneva convention, and he will practically demand that Great Britain permit the forwarding of the Red Cross supplies for humanitarian work in Germany and Austria. The president will act upon the recommendation of ex-President Taft, who is chairman of the central committee of the Red Cross.

GENERALS PASS UP THE WORK

Conferees Fail to Agree In Regard to Invasion.

BORDER SESSIONS ENDED

Statement Issued by Generals Scott and Obregon Declaring That Good Will Marked the Conferences—Carranza Still Insists on Early Withdrawal of Americans—Next Move in the Controversy.

El Paso, Tex., May 12.—General Alvaro Obregon, Mexican minister of war, and General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, decided, after conferring since April 29, that it was useless to continue their efforts to reconcile the differences of the two countries over the American expedition into Mexico and adjourned their sessions.

The whole matter was referred back to the American and de facto governments, to be settled through diplomatic channels.

The situation is almost exactly where it stood before the conference began. The Mexican government still insists on the withdrawal of General Pershing's columns upon a certain date, and wants that date to come quickly. It is known that General Obregon has been willing to make concessions in order to reach an agreement with the American conferees. He has been overruled, however, by the first chief, Venustiano Carranza, and his advisers. After practically conceding the demands of the American conferees, he was compelled to reverse his attitude.

Officials regard the breaking up of the conferences as a clear indication that Mexico and the United States have reached a deadlock over the presence of American troops south of the Rio Grande. The United States says the troops must remain in Mexico for the present. Mexico says they must leave. Army circles regard the suspension of the conference which was to settle this question with keen apprehension.

General Obregon will leave at once for Mexico City and General Scott, accompanied by General Frederick Funston, will go first to Columbus, N. M., to inspect the American army base there, and then to San Antonio, Tex., the headquarters of the latter. They will inspect the new base at Marathon established for the second American punitive expedition into Mexico on their way to San Antonio. General Scott will then return to Washington.

In adjourning their conferences here Generals Scott, Obregon and Funston issued a joint statement, in which they declared that their meetings had been peaceful and friendly and that the friendly relations of the two countries would continue. As if to prove this, the three generals, accompanied by Juan N. Amador, secretary of Mexican foreign relations, took dinner together in the private car of General Scott in El Paso, shortly after the final conference adjourned.

AFTER 'EM

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., May 12.—American troops are now in Coahuila, Mex. Major George Langhorne's command, two troops of the Eighth cavalry, crossed the Rio Grande near Bonquillas and is pursuing the Mexican bandits.

General Frederick Funston, commanding the southern department of the United States army, was advised of this at his private car in the El Paso railroad yards.

It is believed by army officers that the American troops have a good chance to overtake the bandits, who are reported to be attempting to take with them the wagon loads of loot which they captured in the Glenn Springs raid, and these wagons are delaying their progress toward the mountains.

ANOTHER ONE

(By American Press)

Marathon, Tex., May 12.—Another raid by a band of Mexicans over the Texas line is reported south of here. The report said the Mexican bandits raided several ranches on the Texas side and drove off horses and stock, taking them back to Mexico. Several

THE GIRL AND THE GAME

A STORY OF MOUNTAIN RAILROAD LIFE
By FRANK H. SPEARMAN
AUTHOR OF "WHISPERING SMITH," "THE MOUNTAIN DIVIDE," "STRATEGY OF GREAT RAILROADS," ETC
NOVELIZED FROM THE MOVING PICTURE PLAY OF THE SAME NAME. PRODUCED BY THE SIGNAL FILM CORPORATION.

SYNOPSIS.

Little Helen Holmes, daughter of General Holmes, railroad man, is rescued from imminent danger on a scenic rail road by George Storm, a newsboy. Grown to young womanhood, Helen saves Storm from a fireman, her father, and his friend, a promoter, from a threatened collision. Safebreakers employed by Seagrue, a General Holmes' survey plans, steal the cut off line for the Tidewater, fatally wound the general and escape. Her father's estate badly involved by his death, Helen goes to work on the Tidewater. Helen recovers the survey plans from Seagrue, and though they are taken from her, she finds an accidentally made proof of the survey blueprint. Storm is employed by Rhineland, and though they are taken from her, she finds an accidentally made proof of the survey blueprint. Storm is employed by Rhineland, and though they are taken from her, she finds an accidentally made proof of the survey blueprint.

The tennis games were finished and the guests making ready to go. Helen was about to start from the courts herself when Storm, coming up, spoke abruptly to her. But he was too proud and Helen was too disdainful. He could not bring himself to speak further about the unfortunate incident and, incensed by his attitude, Helen, when she extended her hand as he said good-by, slipped his ring from her finger and gave it to him in shaking hands.

Flushed with humiliation, he turned away. This was not quite what she had expected; but it was too late now to recall her precipitateness, and, pretending not to care—although she did care a great deal—she started for the station with Seagrue to see her guests safely on the train.

At Signal station Perkins, the agent, was taking an order from the dispatcher:

Train No. 8 will wait at Feely Junction for Extra 3603 until 1:10 p. m. Helen's guests were arriving to take the local. The agent tossed the message to one side and resumed his work. A bevy of pretty girls appeared at his window. One of them tapped on the pane and asked what time it was. Perkins, always gallant, told them and walked out on the platform to answer further questions.

The local that day carried half a dozen box cars, with two coaches hooked on the hind end for the Signal passengers. When the train pulled in, Storm, with Spike and the tennis guests, boarded it. Seagrue, having driven up by machine, remained, greatly pleased with the situation. The train drew away from the station and the agent returned to the office. Seagrue and Helen walked down the platform.

The moment Perkins reached his desk his eyes rested on the flimsy; he had forgotten to give the meeting order for No. 8. He dashed out of doors, shouting vainly after the disappearing train. Seagrue stopped him. "What's the matter?"

Perkins was hardly able to speak: "I overlooked an order. Unless we stop the local, she will crash into Number Eight at the Junction."

Helen, who understood the emergency better than Seagrue, caught her companion's arm: "We must catch that train," she cried, "or there'll be

A terrific accident.

"What do you mean—catch it?" demanded Seagrue. "I'm no sprinter." "In the machine—the machine," cried Helen. "Don't lose an instant. We may be too late."

Seagrue, whose mind did not work as quickly, lost a precious moment in asking questions. Then agreeing to what she declared must be done, the two hurried to the house, boarded Seagrue's car and started rapidly down the highway after the local.

After crossing the hill north of the village of Signal, the highway parallels the railroad for some distance. The local engineer, intent only on maintaining his schedule, was lumbering along at fairly good speed, when he saw the fireman on the other side of the cab leave his box and walk back into the gangway. A motor car occupied by a man and woman and driven rapidly along the road, was overtaking the engine. The fireman surmised they were giving the train a race—not an unusual thing along that particular tangent. But these racers waved frantically at him. Thinking they were jesting, the fireman waved back in turn.

"We never can stop them!" cried Helen. "That man thinks we're fooling. You must run ahead of the train, and get over on the other side where we can reach the engine."

With a terrific burst of speed, the motor car pulled ahead of the fast moving engine and taking the track like a hurdle, crossed to the right side of the engine. For one moment the lives in the motor car hung narrowly in the balance; the hind wheels missed the pilot by only the fraction of a second. Helen tried to cry out her warning to the engineer. But he, mistaking her intent as the fireman had done, grew angry at what appeared to him a crazy joy ride. He refused to listen or look any longer toward the motorists, but waved them contemptuously off, calling them roundly for their idleness and sitting down again in his throttle.

Half mile beyond where Helen and Seagrue were now speeding, the railroad and the highway part company abruptly and all hope of making the engineer stop came to an end. As the train pulled away from the road, the motor car was halted and Seagrue and Helen got out. Helen felt keenly distressed, but of a sudden she remembered Burnet Bridge. She whirled on Seagrue: "We can beat them to Burnet bridge, this side of the Junction!" "Come on," cried Seagrue. "If we're to do that, there's no time to waste. Into the car!" He sprang in after her and away they went on the new hope. (To be continued)

MINISTER GIVES GIRLS TWELVE GOLDEN RULES

Divine Tells Them to Think Carefully and Prayerfully About Their Wedding Day.

Cleveland.—"Twelve Golden Rules For Young Ladies" was the subject of the sermon delivered by Rev. Thomas Hughes, pastor of the Rocky River Methodist church. The twelve rules are:

- "Always remember to be a lady."
- "Don't be loud and boisterous."
- "Be modest and virtuous."
- "Choose carefully your company of both sexes."
- "Open your eyes and ears, but keep your heart closed to the gush and nonsense from the so-called lovers."
- "Be careful about your dress. Have it becoming and tasteful."
- "Be more careful about what is in your head than what is in your heart."
- "Don't be self conceited."
- "Don't keep company with a sinful young man."
- "Think carefully and prayerfully about your wedding day."
- "Be considerate about the time and money of your gentlemen friends."
- "Be true to the best ideals of womanhood."

NOT CRAZY—ONLY INGENIOUS

Racine Man Real Humanitarian by Wall Papering Sidewalk.

Racine, Wis.—Albert B. Broden recently amazed the town by getting out with paste pot before his store here and plastering the sidewalk with bright colored wall paper. He was promptly arrested under suspicion that he had become insane.

In court, however, he said he could think of no better way to prevent accidents by slipping on his walk. He said that the paper acted better than sand in preventing accidents and agreed to take it off as soon as the weather became warm enough for him to remove the ice. He was complimented for his ingenuity.

IRELAND MAY BE DISARMED

Would Include Ulster and Nationalist Volunteers.

HINT IN HOUSE OF LORDS

Premier Asquith Goes to Dublin to Investigate the Irish Situation on the Spot—British Government Sharply Assailed by John Dillon, Who Addresses the Commons—Developments in Irish Muddle.

London, May 12.—The prediction that the punishment of the Irish rebels would cause a reaction of sympathy among the Irish people, appears to be materializing.

John Dillon, Nationalist, attacked the government in the house of commons in a speech which, for bitter denunciation, has not been surpassed at Westminster since Parnell's days.

Premier Asquith has personally stepped into the breach and is taking the unprecedented course of journeying to Dublin to investigate the situation on the spot and doubtless to give instructions to General Sir John Maxwell regarding the policy which the military government must pursue, now that the chief civil administrators, Lord Wimborne, Augustine Birrell and Sir Matthew Nathan, have retired from office.

The Marquis of Lansdowne intimated to the house of lords that the disarmament of all Ireland will be undertaken. This would mean the disarmament of the Ulster and Nationalist volunteers, and whether that can be done depends on Sir Edward Carson and John Redmond more than on any other individuals.

The house of commons negative, without division, Mr. Dillon's motion demanding that the government should immediately declare its intentions. The house of lords adopted, without division, Lord Loreburn's motion expressing dissatisfaction with the government's management of Ireland.

At present everything conceivable, said Mr. Dillon, in his speech, was being done to spread disaffection throughout the country. Limerick, Clare and Mayo counties were not in a disturbed condition, and their reward was the sending of troops to make arrests.

FRIENDLY FEELINGS

Berlin Not to Reply to President Wilson's Note.

Berlin, May 12.—The feeling of friendliness in Germany toward the United States today is such as has not existed since the Lusitania sank a year ago. This is true both of official and unofficial circles of the government, as well as of the press and the people. The end of the high tension which so often has threatened war in the last twelve months has brought a real feeling of relief everywhere. There was a manifestation of this new friendship and cordiality when Ambassador Gerard delivered the last American note made in reply to the German declaration of May 4 to Foreign Minister Von Jagow and conferred for an hour with him.

There will be no German answer to this note. It is taken for granted that President Wilson's reply settles the entire question, as it indicates that Germany's declarations have been accepted by the United States. Germany never intended that its statement concerning the course to be pursued if the president could not bring the allies to terms should be considered in any sense a condition modifying the announcement of the new submarine orders. It is therefore willing to rest on Mr. Wilson's declaration that no conditions can be accepted. Germany also is willing to be judged from now on by deeds and not words.

This is the Record of George Lucas, a Passaic Letter Carrier.

Passaic, N. J.—George Lucas, inventor, playwright, poet and for twenty-seven years a letter carrier in this city, was the center of attraction at the annual banquet of the Passaic postoffice employees.

He is the only member left of the staff which did Uncle Sam's business there when the free postal delivery was established, Feb. 1, 1889, the day he was appointed. Since that time he has worked nearly every day, Sunday excepted. He has figured that he has walked 81,000 miles, more than three times the distance around the world. His record stands unequalled in New Jersey, and it is believed, in the United States.

IS BADLY INJURED BY HARROW SPIKES

Mr. George Moore, well known farmer of the Anderson pike, is confined to his home and suffering much from wounds received while attempting to move a spike harrow through a narrow gateway and the harrow falling against him in such a way as to inflict some ugly wounds in his right leg where the sharp spikes penetrated to a depth of one inch.

He is under the care of a physician and it will be some little time before he is able to resume his farm work.

SEEK LOCATION FOR ANNUAL OUTING

Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage, Messrs. Will Hetteshelmer, H. C. Ireland and Wm. Fogle spent Wednesday looking for a desirable location for the annual outing of the Fish and Game Association on June 10th.

They found an ideal one in the Austin neighborhood if the privilege of using it is granted.

HAS CONTRACT FOR BUILDING 40 HOMES

The "war business" has created a heavy demand for small houses in Springfield, and Mr. Orie Dowler of this city has taken the contract, it is announced, for the construction of forty residences in Springfield just as quickly as he can erect them.

BOYS LECTURED

Seven boys, ranging in age from 10 to 15 years, were taken before Mayor Oster, Thursday, for upsetting cans of water from a sign board over the sidewalk on Clinton avenue sprinkling pedestrians as they passed beneath.

The boys were dismissed with a lecture and informed that repetition of the offense would be given more attention.

MAY FORCE PASSAGE FOR SERBIA

Entente Powers to Disregard Greek Refusal and Transport Troops to Saloniki—Crisis Is Faced.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Berlin, wireless to Sayville, L. I., May 12.—The Entente powers have decided to resort to force, if necessary, to transport the Serbian troops across Greek territory to the Saloniki front, the Overseas News Agency says.

The official Russian press bureau, as quoted by the Petrograd newspapers, announces that the Greek government is adhering to its decision to refuse permission for passage of the Serbian troops, the news agency says.

ORDER WITHDRAWN

The order issued by the Franklin county probate court, in the matter of the guardianship of Mr. John McLean, for the return of Mr. McLean to Franklin county, has been withdrawn and he will remain in this city.

Wanted to Be Joined Right.

They were going out to dinner, and he had gone into the house from his limousine to get her.

"All ready?" he asked, at the foot of the stairs.

"Almost," came the response from above.

"I've asked a friend to join us. Is it all right?"

"Yes, if it's the minister"—Yonkers Statesman.

Charity.

She—I'm glad we went. It was an excellent performance—and for such a charitable purpose! Her Husband—Yes, indeed! We all feel a thrill of satisfaction when we do something for charity and get the worth of our money at the same time.

Sight Unseen.

Head of Firm—How long do you want to be away on your wedding trip?

Hawkins (timidly)—Well, sir—er—what would you say?

"How do I know? I haven't seen the bride."—Life.

CHINESE PUNISHMENTS.

Flogging Is Common, and Rank Does Not Protect an Offender.

Chinese lawgivers are not troubled with any sentimental scruples on the subject of flogging. Even a criminal condemned to death is given a preliminary thrashing instead of, as with us, being treated with sympathy and consideration until the hour of doom. Another feature of Chinese justice, so far as the lash is concerned, is its strict impartiality.

Highborn offenders are flogged as relentlessly as criminals of the lower orders. The back of many a silken robed dignitary has been scored with the leather thongs of the whips wielded by sturdy Chinese officials, whose duty it has been to lay on the lash heavily, regardless of the rank of the victim, on pain of being flogged themselves.

The Chinese legal code prescribes the lash for many offenses so trivial that in Europe they would be quite outside the scope of the law. Not all of the enactments are enforced nowadays, but we may quote two of them as quaint examples. Fifty lashes were ordered to be given to any merchant or tradesman offering for sale goods not of the quality they are represented to be, while self glorification is discouraged by a law that any military man who raises a monument to himself for deeds of heroism which he has never performed is to receive 100 lashes.—Pearson's Weekly.

HANGING PICTURES.

This is a Task That Should Produce Artistic Results.

In going over one's pictures eliminate all but the choicest and best beloved and try to group together the pictures whose subjects are somewhat related or which have a similarity in frames. Indeed, even when subjects are closely related it is not possible always to hang pictures together owing to a too great difference in the kind of frames. As a rule, any room looks better, especially small rooms, where only one color frame is used on all pictures, but if this is not possible then the next best thing is to keep all of the pictures in gilt frames in one part of the room, all of the dark framed pictures on another wall, etc.

Also one can get the best results by separating water colors and prints, and etchings or engravings should, of course, always be hung apart from other pictures. Another point frequently overlooked is the wisdom of putting the darker pictures on the wall that receives the best light from windows and contrariwise the gilt framed pictures of lighter subjects where they may serve to brighten a dark part of the room.

Finally do not crowd the walls. Hang pictures well in line with the eyes of a person of average height and, of course, choose plain walls, tinted or papered for backgrounds.—Albany Argus.

Blowing Flowers.

When amateurs speak of flowers "blowing" they are not using a mere vulgarism. They are speaking real old English. In the early tongue the verb "blow" was used to indicate the opening of flowers. Instead of "blow" being a corruption of "bloom" it is the other way about. "Blossom" comes from the same root.

We do not grow the costard apple nowadays, but our forefathers set great store by the sort and bought it eagerly in the streets from the "mongers."

From costard monger to costermonger is a short step. Hawthorn, too, has its interest. The old form of haw was haga, which means hedge. Hawthorn is therefore simply hedge thorn.—London Graphic.

The Age of Quickness.

The modern wife placed two plates with knives, forks, spoons and tumblers on the dining room table and took two paper napkins from a drawer, laying one beside each plate.

Then she lighted the gas stove, opened a can of soup and placed it in a skillet to heat. Next she opened two cans of vegetables and a can of salmon and heated these. She cut six slices of baker's bread and quartered a baker's pie, placing everything on the table, together with butter, salt, pepper and a pitcher of cold water.

"John," she said briskly, "your dinner's ready."—Judge.

DRIVEN INSANE BY 100 CIGARETTES A DAY

Sent to an Asylum Upon Saloon-keeper's Complaint and Doctor's Testimony.

Detroit, Mich.—Frank Winters, the man who smoked a hundred cigarettes a day, was committed to the Pontiac asylum by Judge Hulbert recently in the probate court.

The incessant use of the cigarettes was declared by Dr. S. L. Layton, who examined Winters, to have affected his mind. Frequenting a saloon at the corner of Chamberlain and Lawndale avenues, Winters smoked until his supply gave out and his money too. After that he begged smokes from the customers of the saloon, according to Joseph Berman, the proprietor of the place.

Berman petitioned the court to have Winters taken to an asylum. A German by birth, Winters was getting along well in this country until the cigarette habit got the upper hand. Given jobs by Berman, Winters even lost his power of application to simple work.

"No more work for me," he would say as he would sit down on the job, Berman told investigators.

The nicotine undoubtedly had a deteriorating effect on his mentality, Dr. Layton declared.

Back to the Oxen.

Sheboygan, Wis.—Return of oxen as draft animals on middle west farms has been predicted by farmers here as a result of the high price of horses, caused by the war. One carload of oxen for farm work has already been bought by farmers near here.

HAS CIVIL WAR HARDTACK.

Musty Now, but Woman Has Kept Brother's Gift Many Years.

Litchfield, Minn.—A piece of musty hardtack carried in a knapsack by her brother, Enoch Leavitt, when he marched under Colonel Buford against the famous Morgan raiders is a memento of the civil war possessed by Mrs. James Lowater.

Following Morgan's capture Mrs. Lowater's brother was granted a furlough and brought the ancient piece of army bread home to his sister. She has had it now for fifty years. Though it is a little green from age, it is still in a fairly good state of preservation. Mrs. Lowater is one of the pioneers of this part of the country.
